DECEMBER 2018

Santa Claus is Coming to WSCU

Hey Kids... have you heard?

On Friday, December 14th from 3 to 5 p.m. Santa will be visiting the Credit Union. If we are lucky he may bring Mrs. Claus and his head elf with him too!

You may have to wait in line and behave very well. Perhaps even let Mom and Dad take a picture or two... then Santa will have a little gift for you!

We will have cookies and something to drink, a craft project and candy canes too!

We want to celebrate Christmas with you, we love our Members: Adults and children too!

Scam Alert!

7 Scams To Watch Out For This Holiday Season

Phishing Emails - Phishing scams abound ahead of the holidays. They can take the form of bogus delivery confirmation requests seeking your information or even a personalized letter to your child from "Santa." Never share personal information online with an unverified source.

Fake charities - Sadly, many scammers capitalize on the goodwill that flourishes this time of year by asking you to make a donation to a bogus charity. Verify the authenticity of any charity you'd like to make a contribution to by checking it out on a website like CharityNavigator.org.

Package theft - Unfortunately, some 23 million customers will have their packages stolen from their doorsteps this year. Don't be one of them. If possible, arrange for a delivery requiring your signature upon receipt or use a video doorbell. Otherwise, track your order and know when to look out for it so you can bring it inside as quickly as possible.

Bogus sites - Don't believe ads or websites that are practically giving goods away for free. Once you click an ad link and place an order, you'll never hear from the site again. Worse yet, the scammers may use the information you shared to empty your accounts.

Only shop on reputable sites and always check the URL before placing an order. It may look strikingly similar to a popular site, but if one letter is off or missing completely, the site is bogus. Also, look for that important "s" after the "http" in the web address to verify a site's security.

Fake freebies - If you're offered any outrageous free gifts this holiday season, whether via text message, email or social media posts, ignore them. They are a scam, designed to lure you into sharing your information with criminals or unwittingly installing malware on your device.

Defunct gift cards - Many scammers sell expired or empty gift cards this time of year. Ask to inspect any gift card and check to see if the activation code is exposed. If it is, the scammer has likely already used the card or has copied the information and will use it soon.

Temporary holiday jobs - During the busy holiday season, many scammers pose as employers of recognized businesses and post help-wanted ads on social media platforms and popular websites. These ads, direct you to a bogus site that looks legit. They'll then be asked to share personal information in order to submit an application. The scammer will then use this information for fraud.

If you're looking for a seasonal job, apply in person or directly on a business's website. Do not follow any links.
